

Because I still get occasional telemarketing calls even though I am on the NJ Do Not Call list, I do not believe our (NJ) standards are too tough at all. Further, the next control that needs to be put in place nationally is a Do Not Mail list for junk mail related to credit card offers to curb the opportunity for identify theft.